

The 7th Asian Population Association Conference

November 2026 in Hanoi

The Asian Population Association (APA) is pleased to announce that its 7th Asian Population Association Conference (7th APAC) will be held in November 2026 in Hanoi, Viet Nam. The conference is being organized in collaboration with the Vietnam Union of Science and Technology Associations (VUSTA) and the Vietnam Population Association (VNPA).

Held every three years, the APA Conference serves as a premier regional forum to advance high-quality demographic research, strengthen scholarly exchange, and promote evidence-based policy dialogue among population scientists across Asia and around the world.

Further details on the conference theme, program, key deadlines, and participation guidelines will be posted soon on the APA website.

Interested scholars, practitioners, and students are encouraged to follow forthcoming announcements at www.asianpa.org
