

Workshop on Health and Mortality in Latin America

The Health and Mortality and ProDatos panels of the Latin American Population Association (ALAP) are pleased to announce their 1st Workshop on Health and Mortality in Latin America, to be held in Montevideo (Uruguay) on September 17 and 18, 2025. This workshop will focus on discussing recent changes in health and mortality profiles in Latin American countries, as well as the challenges these pose for different countries.

Location: Universidad de la República, Faculty of Social Sciences, Montevideo, Uruguay.

Date: September 17 and 18, 2025

We invite you to send contributions that explore the following topics:

- The health transition in Latin America
- Economic and social determinants of health and mortality
- Spatial analysis of health and mortality
- Maternal and child mortality
- Demographic effects of violence
- Migration, health, and mortality
- Impacts of climate change on health and mortality
- Innovative methods for the analysis of mortality and health
- Challenges related to the comparability of health and mortality data in the region

The above list is not exhaustive and other topics will also be considered as long as the focus is on aspects about Latin American health and mortality.

We invite structured abstracts (e.g., background, objectives, data, methods, expected results) with a maximum length of 2 pages in PDF format. Abstracts in Spanish, Portuguese, English, and French are welcome. Contributions may be based on analysis of empirical data, present innovative methods, or theoretical knowledge.

Abstract submission deadline: 04/20/2025. To submit your abstract, please use the following form. The results of the selection will be communicated by 05/15/2025.

Please note that limited funding may be available to support the participation of selected paper presenters from students and researchers whose main affiliation is a Latin American institution, contingent upon availability of funds.

The organizers will select exceptional submissions for a special issue on "Health and Mortality in Latin America" to be published in the Estudios Demográficos y Urbanos journal of El Colegio de México.
